To Whom it May Concern,

My name is Lauren Hollis, and I am writing on behalf of the MEDLIFE chapter at Slippery Rock University. MEDLIFE is a non-profit organization that sets up Mobile Clinics in Peru, Ecuador, Nicaragua, and Tanzania. Mobile Clinics seek to provide primary healthcare by providing doctors, dentists, gynecologists, medications, and educational workshops to those in rural or impoverished areas who otherwise may not have access to medical services.

I as well as our participating freshman student, Victoria Cooper, will be attending a MEDLIFE Service Learning Trip,, during which we will complete many hours of service including shadowing local doctors and medical professionals in various stations such as triage, pharmacy, dental care, gynecology, and general medicine. I, along with my MEDLIFE Chapter, will contribute by making a sustainable difference in the local community members' lives by providing valuable health care assistance as well as participating in a development project improving the infrastructure of the community.

MEDLIFE coordinates the efforts of motivated students, local medical professionals, and communities in need in order to make Mobile Clinics happen. The purpose of Mobile Clinics is multi-lateral: to improve the overall well-being and health of the community, to develop the existing infrastructure so as to ensure sustainable change, and to educate and prepare students for future careers in international development and global health.

Any donation of any denomination to my participation fee of $2,500 for the trip, which in turn funds MEDLIFE Clinics and Patient Follow Up Care, you will be directly impacting MEDLIFE's capacity to serve the communities we partner with and would be deeply appreciated.

Thanks to your donations, multiple deserving communities and people experiencing poverty will be served. We extremely appreciate any donations possible. Please contact me if you have any questions or would like further information regarding MEDLIFE's work.

Sincerely,

Lauren Hollis
