Epistle (Resurrection)

(Acts 6:1-7)

Now in those days, when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a complaint against the Hebrews by the Hellenists, because their widows were neglected in the daily distribution.

Then the twelve summoned the multitude of the disciples and said, “It is not desirable that we should leave the word of God and serve tables.

“Therefore, brethren, seek out from among you seven men of good reputation, full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business;

“but we will give ourselves continually to prayer and to the ministry of the word.”

And the saying pleased the whole multitude. And they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and the Holy Spirit, and Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolas, a proselyte from Antioch, whom they set before the apostles; and when they had prayed, they laid hands on them.

Then the word of God spread, and the number of the disciples multiplied greatly in Jerusalem, and a great many of the priests were obedient to the faith.

Gospel (Resurrection)

(Mark 15:43-16:8)

Joseph of Arimathea, a prominent council member, who was himself waiting for the kingdom of God, coming and taking courage, went in to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.

Pilate marveled that He was already dead; and summoning the centurion, he asked him if He had been dead for some time.

So when he found out from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph.

Then he bought fine linen, took Him down, and wrapped Him in the linen. And he laid Him in a tomb which had been hewn out of the rock, and rolled a stone against the door of the tomb.

And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses observed where He was laid.

Now when the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices, that they might come and anoint Him.

Very early in the morning, on the first day of the week, they came to the tomb when the sun had risen.

And they said among themselves, “Who will roll away the stone from the door of the tomb for us?”

But when they looked up, they saw that the stone had been rolled away – for it was very large.

And entering the tomb, they saw a young man clothed in a long white robe sitting on the right side; and they were alarmed.

But he said to them, “Do not be alarmed. You seek Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified. He is risen! He is not here. See the place where they laid Him.

“But go, tell His disciples – and Peter – that He is going before you into Galilee; there you will see Him, as He said to you.”

So they went out quickly and fled from the tomb, for they trembled and were amazed. And they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

The Third Sunday after Pascha: St. Joseph of Arimathea and the Myrrh-Bearing Women

By Very Rev. Fr. Lawrence Farley

St. Joseph of Arimathea was a disciple of Jesus and a member of the Sanhedrin, the council that ruled Jerusalem and Jewish affairs. He kept his loyalty to Jesus secret in the early days, since such loyalty was fiercely persecuted in Judea. After Christ's death, Joseph gathered up his courage and went to Pilate to ask for the body of Jesus to give it honorable burial. This was a courageous act, sure to invite persecution from his fellow Jews. Joseph nonetheless carried out the burial, wrapping Christ's body in a clean linen shroud and placing it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out of the rock in a garden near Golgotha.

Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of James and Joseph, with other women, saw where Jesus was buried, and they determined to anoint His body as a final act of love and devotion. They had some spices prepared but needed to buy more. Since the weekly Sabbath began immediately after Jesus' burial, they rested on the Sabbath, and after the Sabbath, bought more spices. Early on Sunday, the first day of the week, they met at the tomb, determined somehow to have the stone guarding the door of the tomb moved.

When they arrived, they saw that the stone had already been moved and that the body of Jesus was not there. They saw a vision of angels in white who told them that Christ was not there but had risen. The angels told the women to tell this news to the apostles, assuring them that all should meet the risen Christ in Galilee. The women fled awestruck from the tomb. They told the disciples of their vision, though the apostles did not believe their word alone. The myrrh-bearing women remain in the Church as images of faithful love and courage, enlightened and rewarded by the joy of the Resurrection.
