Holy Martyr Euplus the Deacon

By Very Rev. Fr. Lawrence Farley

Euplus was a deacon in the city of Catana, Sicily. He was arrested for being a Christian and, when brought in for examination, came with the gospel book. The examining judge in curiosity bade him read from it, and he read, "Blessed are they who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, / For theirs is the Kingdom of heaven" (Matt. 5:10). When asked what it meant, Euplus replied that it was the Lord's law and that he followed this Lord, Jesus Christ. For thus confessing himself a Christian, he was put on the rack.

After some torture, Euplus was asked if he still persisted in his way. With his free hand, he signed himself with the Cross and said, "What I said before, I say again—I am a Christian and read the Holy. Scriptures." He was ordered to lay aside his foolishness and adore the gods. He replied, "I adore Jesus Christ—I detest the demons. Do what you want—add new tortures, but I am a Christian." They told him to adore Mars, Apollo, and Aesclepius. He said, "I adore the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, besides whom there is no God." They told him to sacrifice to the gods if he would be delivered. He said, "I sacrifice myself, now, to Jesus Christ my God." When the tortures increased, he kept repeating, "I thank you, my God. Jesus Christ, help me. It is for Your Name's sake I endure these agonies!" He prayed, moving his lips even when he could no longer speak. Finally, he was led out and beheaded. As he was led out, Euplus kept crying out with joy, "Thanks be to Christ my God!" He suffered with honor and died for the Lord in 304.
